

LOD methodology for providing expert project teams

We analyse your documents, playbooks and operating processes. If you have these documented, great, if not we work with you to develop them

We work with you to co-develop a joint operating playbook that outlines how the service will mesh seamlessly with yours (including escalation)

We select the right talent from our talent pool and link them to a delivery manager who will be responsible for service delivery

We build a transition plan that helps us launch the service to your business

Go-live, our teams are ready to receive your work
